Choose a different object for each challenge.

Something made from plastic

Something made from paper

Something that you can see through

Something you think would break easily

Something that shows signs of wear and tear

Something made from natural materials

Something you think is strong

Something made from more than one material

Something that would survive a fire

Something really old

Something designed to be thrown away

Something you think was expensive to make

Something that could keep you warm

Something that makes you think of your home

Something that would keep you dry in the rain
